New Trouble in Tunisia, French Crisis

Tunisian Foreign Minister Sadok Mokdem summoned U.S. Ambassador Lewis Jones to his office to discuss the incident. The president of Tunisia cancelled his weekly radio address to the nation, reportedly because he was upset by the incident.

U. S. Releases $3 Billion to Pump Economy

WASHINGTON (UP) — The government has released up to three billion new dollars that U.S. banks may pump into the nation's faltering economy.

In its most sweeping anti-recession action since abandoning the "light money" policy, the Federal Reserve Board Wednesday cut the reserve requirements of its 6,400 member banks by 500 million dollars.

The structure of the American banking system will permit the banks to multiply the dollars freed by the Reserve Board as many as six times in new loans.

That means up to three billion dollars will be available at the end available at the end of February of 1938 for those who want to start new ventures or build new factories or families who want to buy new homes.

Banking sources in New York said that although the action will increase the amount of bank credit available for investment, it remains to be seen whether it will stimulate demand for that credit.

Racing Fund Sets a New Dollar Record

LEXINGTON, Ky. (UP) — Racing revenue to the 24 states with legalized betting on horses reached a record total of $218,718,002 in 1937, the National Association of State Racing Commissioners reported today.

Thoroughbred racing contributed the largest portion to the state treasuries and New York collected the largest segment. The "flat runners" furnished $108,002,815 in revenue while harness horses raised $44,995,440; County fairs, at which both thoroughbreds and standard breeds race, and quarter horse meetings contributed $2,720,707.

New York collected a total of $77,070,007, almost three times as much as runner-up California, which got $25,074,008. New Jersey was third in revenue with $24,484,000.

A total of $2,225,100,521 was bet on thoroughbreds with attendance of 28,250,054; $107,208,724 on harness racing with attendance of 10,759,337; and $87,139,690 on quarter horses and fairs with attendance of 1,754,074. The NASRC said.

Betting provided the principal source of state income. The tax on thoroughbred betting pools was $151,000,083; on harness wagering $41,482,392; and on quarter horses and fairs $4,558,247.

Valentine Banquet Held

First Baptist Church was the scene for a Valentine Banquet given by the women of the church for the intermediates and young people of the church on Saturday evening.

As the twenty nine young people arrived Miss Polly Sherman pinned Valentine corsages on the girls and Valentine boutonnieres on the boys. At intervals along the table were placed Valentine trees designed with candy hearts and red tulle on a red base.

Lighted red tapers were placed on frilly red hearts and encircled with tiny white flowers. Napkins and programs also carried out the Valentine motif. Red hearts, white cupid and white tapers in red heart holders placed at vantage points formed an attractive background.

Johnny Hines served as master of ceremonies and the following program was presented:

Our Hearts, Billy Loomis; Best full of thanks, James Roy Phillips; Heart to heart welcome, Charlie Bob Weaver; Refresher, Virginia Purdie; Guest speaker, Wayne Smith; Quenching College; Benediction, Ed Bryson.

WATERBIRD—Churning up a pretty pattern is the Navy's new P6M Martin "Seamaster" as it taxis across Chesapeake Bay in the company of a speed boat. The seaplane is a 600-mile-per-hour flying minelayer that would be used to go after enemy submarines in their home ports in the event of war. Its wing-top jet engine nacelles are cantilevered outward in order to eliminate heating of the plane's fuselage when the inboard engine afterburners are used on takeoffs.

would not elaborate on whether the committee wanted a permanent or temporary stay of the integration order.

Gay said the committee might have a statement on the request "in a few days." Supl. Virgil Blossom said he could see "nothing wrong" in the suggestion.

Gay Orval Fabius called the letter the committee sent the school board "a good statement." He said it "conforms closely with what I have said in the past."

The committee's suggestion was obviously prompted by a string of interracial incidents in Central High school since nine Negroes integrated the school under para-troops' bayonets Sept. 25.

Mrs. L. C. Bates, president of the Arkansas chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said she would not make a statement on the committee's request until the school board replied.

Seven Italians, including employees of Camp Derby, have been detained and some have made confessions, police said.

Foreign Aid Hits Home Spending Plea

By RAYMOND LAHR
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower's four-billion dollar foreign aid program clashed today with demands for homefront spending to combat the business slump.

It also bumped into a congressional call for gradual elimination of all free military aid to force Allied nations to spend more for their own defenses.

There was no sign the program the President sent Congress Wednesday will meet decreased opposition from lawmakers who have been voting to cut foreign aid spending a billion dollars or more each year.

House Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin conceded the program faces "a pretty hard fight." Along with growing opposition to foreign aid in recent years, the 1958 program raises the issue of spending abroad while unemployment is on the rise at home.

The President, anticipating this question, said Wednesday he was aware "of the feeling of some that desirable developments should be accomplished in this country before funds are used for development abroad."

He replied that foreign aid is "of transcendent importance to the security of the United States," and dollar-for-dollar buys more

BLACKLISTING BECRIES

NEW YORK (UP)—The presidents of 17 major American Jewish organizations today described as "economic and political blackmail" the Arab-backed blacklisting of U.S. firms that do business with Israel. "The Arab policy would collapse if the United States government strongly opposed it," they said. The statement said the recent U.S. renewal of an agreement with Saudi Arabia prohibits assignment of Jewish personnel to the U.S. air base at Dhahran and as a result "American Jews are no longer equally protected in their rights of citizenship."

DOROTHY DIX

While Hunting Deer, He's Not After Dear

Dear Dorothy Dix: Who is right in this argument? Recently my husband of six months was invited hunting by an old buddy. They were to leave 3 a.m. on Sunday morning and return 3 p.m. Sunday afternoon. I didn't want him to go for three reasons: (1) I don't care for the buddy — he has no respect for his marriage; (2) We both work and Sunday is our only day to do anything together; (3) I believe a husband's place is with his family at night. This is his strongest objection. Now I'll present his side of the story. He's a good honest, hard-working man. I trust him and we have a good marriage. He loves hunting and fishing, and I realize he needs some time off from me. Am I being foolish while in feeling the way I do? Should I have let him go without comment? PEARL N.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm a very happy wife and mother with only one gripe. My husband won't take over the children at night. My sister is being given a shower next week and I can't go because he won't mind the kids. I've offered him one night a week but he won't take it. MABEL

Dear Mabel: Lucky you! Most wives complain because their husbands take too many nights off. If you insist on your night off, he may do likewise — then look out. While it's a shame about sister's shower (although I do think hubby would be cooperative for so important an occasion) I don't think it's worth stirring up muddy waters. Take the children and visit your friends during the day; save evenings for your husband. He likes it that way and believe me, that's good.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I've been going steady for two years with a boy of 22-four years younger than I. We used to see each other every day but now he comes only on weekends and he's even missed one or two of those. I have too much faith in him. I doubt his love. Do you suppose our romance is fading? TIBBY

Dear Tibby: Remember the words of the popular song regarding romance. "It was too hot not to cool down." Well, I think your love affair took somewhat the same course. When young people are just going steady, daily visits are a bit too much. They're bound to wind up in "forgotten weekends." Sorry, Tibby, but I think your faith is slightly misplaced; it does seem as if the young man is cooling off.

Dear Dorothy Dix: My boy friend is nice, but the trouble is he comes to the house and sits around night after night. He won't take me any place though I've suggested skating, dances and movies. I'm sick of looking at four walls. Should I continue putting up with him or not? BAFLEED

Dear Bafleed: If you keep going with the boy and eventually marry him, you'll see nothing but four walls for the rest of your life. He doesn't like to go out and has no intention of being pushed out. Get active in school activities and meet some more aggressive young men.

Gas Stealing Results in Two Arrests

EL DORADO (UP)—A 24 year old Negro is in the hospital and his wife in Union county jail as the result of authorities ending a two-year gasoline theft.

Another Negro was being sought about the theft. Tommy Creer, was hit four times by state police criminal investigator Sgt. O. A. Henley Wednesday night when Creer pointed a shotgun at the lawman.

then attempted to jump him. Creer is "okay," Henley said. The Negro was hit in the left arm and hand, the stomach, and right leg. His wife, Carrie, 23, is in Union county jail.

Henley said the theft from the Texas Eastern Transmission Corp. line had been going on about two years and at a lap about eight miles southwest of here. He said he and deputy Sheriff Glenn Thompson watched the spot off and on for about two weeks and every night for a week.

They found Wednesday afternoon that some one had taken gasoline from the tap and returned in the evening to watch. About 7:30 a car drove up, Henley said, so he and Thompson approached it. A woman in the car handed one of the men a shotgun, and the man pointed it at him, so he shot the sergeant said. The man fell and the other began running with Thompson in pursuit. Creer, the man hit, got up and ran behind the car. He pointed the shotgun again, so Henley said he shot again, hitting the Negro in the stomach. Creer ran into the Winter's Cold Clinging to Most of U. S.

By UNITED PRESS

Winter's prolonged cold and snow clung stubbornly to the East today, clogging river, rail and road transportation. Helicopters flew errands of mercy to the sick and the snowbound.

There was one ray of hope, however, in the 13-day cold wave—a warming trend drifted from the plains into the Midwest and was pushing its way eastward.

But the moderating temperatures were not enough to lift the stinging cold from the heat-starved Southeast or break jams of ice and snow in the northeastern and midwestern blizzard belts.

A new storm dumped 21 inches of snow on South Bend, Ind., Tuesday, further crippling transportation in northwestern Indiana. Army helicopters from Chicago airlifted 21 persons, including sick children and expectant mothers, from their snowbound farm homes near Michigan City, Ind.

Weather Toll High
A United Press count showed a total of 423 weather-connected deaths since the start of the cold, stormy weather Feb. 6. The South alone reported at least 112 weather fatalities, and 141 of the deaths in the East were blamed on last weekend's blizzard.

In the East, the Pennsylvania Railroad was forced to cancel 56 trains Tuesday when snow short-circuited its electric locomotives. All sleeping car service to Washington, Baltimore, Cleveland, Buffalo and Philadelphia was knocked out.

Other trains ran from hours to almost a day late. The New Haven Railroad's "The Colonial," arrived more than 22 hours late on a trip from Washington to Boston Tuesday afternoon. A passenger, Clifford Schmale of Lake Forest, Ill., said the trip was "the most miserable experience I've ever had" as there was "very little heat and practically no food all the way."

Gusty winds of 20 to 40 miles an hour swept the Northeast during the night and light snow flurries fell on the deep snow belt from Michigan and the Lower Great Lakes through much of New York, Pennsylvania and portions of New England.

Sto'm in Far West
The Far West, meanwhile, was battered by a tropical-type storm that brought flood threats to north-central California. Officials said the flood danger so far was not critical, but advised a careful watch, particularly in the Santa Cruz area.

A snow slide south of Dunsmuir, Calif., blocked the Southern Pacific's Shasta Daylight and 170 passengers were taken to Dunsmuir while crews worked to free the tracks. The train was en route to San Francisco.

The cold weather gave ground grudgingly in the Southeast despite the warming trend. Forecasters said unsensational cold eastings could be expected at least through the weekend.

A huge ice jam on the French Broad River threatened to crush Marshall, N.C. Ice blocked traffic on the Ohio River and the Allegheny River above Pittsburgh, and the thickest ice in a decade slowed shipping on the Mississippi.

CHINESE SEE IN NEW YEAR
NEW YORK (UP)—Residents of New York's Chinatown began a five-day New Year celebration Tuesday welcoming the advent of the Year of the Dog—the year 2050, according to the Chinese lunar calendar. The celebration, running through Sunday, will reach its climax Saturday when lions and dragons will be paraded by a golden dragon with many feet in street processions.

Petroleum shipments constitute one-twelfth of Texas' total rail tonnage.

Gracie Allen to Retire in May

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—George Burns and Gracie Allen, comedy team for 35 years, are breaking up the act in May. Gracie is going to retire.

"I have wanted to retire for a long time," Gracie said Tuesday night. "After all, I made my first stage appearance at the age of 4."

George, the cigar-smoking straight man to an unbelievably dumb wife on stage, said his wife of 32 years had had enough of the show business grind, and it was time to take it easy.

But, Burns said, he planned to go on in show business. Both as a performer in "some kind of a show" and in directing the activities of his McCadden Co., producers of the Bob Cummings' show and "The People's Choice."

Ice Block Builds on the Mississippi

ST. LOUIS (UP)—A dam of ice bridged a 27-mile stretch of the Mississippi River from Cairo, Ill., north today and continued to build at the rate of four miles a day.

River traffic was nearly frozen in.

Col. Charles B. Schweizer, district army engineer, said water had risen a foot at Cape Girardeau, Mo., above Cairo. But the gorge was only four feet deep in an area where water normally would be about nine feet deep at this time of year.

"If the gorge continues

Crossett Students Fire a Rocket

CROSSETT (UP)—A group of Crossett high school students, guided by a science teacher, successfully fired a home-made rocket more than 10,000 feet into the air Tuesday.

The rocket was made of steel tubing and propelled by a zinc and sulphur dust fuel. It said, "While in its nose part it carried a small camera which was ejected at the height of the flight."

The camera was parachuted to earth, but the group did not say whether a picture was snapped while the rocket was in flight.

B. D. Dodson, the science teacher, estimated the rocket shot from the small launching pad at 384 miles an hour. The rocket club watched from behind steel protecting shields at a nearby blockhouse.

Dodson said Gerald Johnson, a high school student, designed the rocket. It measured 57 inches and weighed 22 pounds.

Continued Cold Is the Forecast

By UNITED PRESS
Temperatures continued to climb today, but the forecast said more cold weather was still in the picture.

Batesville had a state low of eight degrees this morning. That was somewhat better than the two above at Walnut Ridge Tuesday, and the two above at Paragould Monday. Other lows this morning ranged up to 30 at Texarkana.

The forecast called for considerable cloudiness and no important temperature changes through Thursday. Friday will continue cloudy with a possibility of light rain.

LEAVES GOODBYE MESSAGES
FALGOUN, Ga. (UP)—Every one on the mail route of S. C. King 99, retiring after 37 years of service as a carrier, found something in his mailbox this week. Into each box King put his message: "To my old patrons as well as my new ones—I wish you take this message of going and goodbye. The time has come when I will not visit you daily as heretofore, but please believe me when I say I will never forget you."

Expulsion a Mistake, Says Faubus

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—Gov. Orval Faubus said today he believes the city's school board may have made a mistake in expelling one of the nine Negroes who integrated Little Rock High School last fall.

"I think she should have been permitted to go back to Horace Mann, if she so desired. And of course there are other good schools she could go to," he told newsmen.

Minnie Jean Brown, the Negro girl, was expelled Monday from Little Rock schools on recommendation of Virgil Blossom, superintendent of schools. She is to go to New York City to attend the New Lincoln High School, beginning Monday.

The offer from the school for the Brown girl to attend might have been the result of an "erroneous impression" that there is an attempt in Arkansas to deny Negroes an education, the governor commented.

"Look at some of the small schools in the Ozark mountains where they don't compare," he added. "Some of the most meager schools are attended by poor whites in the Ozarks."

Faubus said a comment from the girl's mother, Mrs. W. B. Brown, that the 16-year-old had to leave Little Rock because of "hateful men" may be directed against him.

He refused comment, however, on the grounds that the statement did not apply to him.

Governor to Attend Demo Fund Dinner

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—Gov. Orval Faubus said today he doesn't expect a personal rebuff when he attends a Democratic fund-raising dinner in Washington Saturday night, but ducked answering whether he would walk out if anything is said against him.

"I don't anticipate that there will be any (personal attacks)," Faubus said. "I didn't walk out on Mr. Hoyt," he added referring to a recent bitter attack by Palmer Hoyt, publisher of the Denver Post.

Faubus said he doesn't think a third party is likely, but said a personal affront to him Saturday could "be a contributing factor" to a walkout by the South. Any remarks against him at the Washington meeting would reflect on the entire state, he said.

"That's a natural consequence. But let's not go too far. I'm not anticipating that."

He pointed out a national television announcer was careful not to include all of the Democratic leaders in saying there is opposition to his appearing at the fund-raising banquet.

The announcer's remarks about some Democratic leaders being afraid to have their picture taken with him drew the comment from the governor. He has been photographed with most of the national leaders already. He named ex-defense secretary Charles Wilson, President Eisenhower, Vice President Nixon, Ex-President Harry Truman, and "almost all the governors" as being photographed with him.

"It may be a great deal of limit (opposition) to his appearance at the dinner is being promoted by the press rather than the Democrats," he said.

3-Day DAR Meet Comes to Close

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—The Arkansas Society Daughters of the American Revolution, ended a three-day conference here today with resolutions protesting further reduction of the state capitol grounds for parking space.

The DAR chapter also urged removal of all obscene publications from newsstands. It voted to meet in "Blytheville in the spring of 1959."

New officers include: Mrs. Ben Jamlin W. McCrary of Hot Springs, state regent; Miss Lily Peter of Marvel, vice regent; Miss Eloise Wall of El Dorado, treasurer; and Mrs. Clem Wilson of Hot Springs, corresponding secretary.

River Searched for Missing Man

DE VALIS BLUFF (UP)—A search party today sought Charlie Hutchens, about 20, who disappeared Tuesday when a boat capsized on White river.

His companion, Jerry Beeler, also about 21, was pulled from the water by Johnson Vick, a partially paralyzed commercial fisherman.

Hutchens cap was found Tuesday by a search party led by Deputy Sheriff Buster Clausen. The law officer said Vick, paralyzed in a car wreck several years ago, dragged himself about a quarter mile to his boat after he heard Beeler's calls for help.

Beeler said he clung to the boat about 15 hours before Vick reached him. He said he told Hutchens not to swim to shore when the boat capsized.

Some 20 million Americans are suffering from a cold on any given day, according to medical records.

IN HER STRIDE — There's talk of a supporting-role Oscar for blue-eyed, blonde, 22-year-old Hope Lange for her acting in the film, "Peyton Place." But Hope isn't surprised at the acclaim. She's convinced she can reach stardom. She's been working hard at acting since she appeared in a Pulitzer Prize play at 12. Overnight fame? She laughs. "Even the Eskimos don't have nights that long!"

He was sweating badly.

"You'd bust a car open to get a jacket you couldn't back for more than a few lousy bucks," I said, frisking him. He was clean. At least he had good taste. He was after a tweed sport coat I liked. "Don't move till I tell you or you'll get hurt." I got out my notebook, put down the time, the license number of the car, the nearest building address. Across the street I saw the excited face of a fat old lady at the window, then she disappeared. She was probably calling the police. I put my notebook away, told him, "Stay the way you are and don't try anything."

"Please give me a chance." "A chance to do what, bust into another car, give me more work making the rounds of the back shops looking for a stolen jacket. Keep your trap shut and don't move."

A radio car turned into the street — last, "The old gal hadn't wasted a second. When the radio car stopped both cops came out on the run. They were a couple of middle-aged guys I knew only by sight. The first one asked, "What's up, Junior?"

"Caught this clown breaking into a car. One of you stay here and see if you can locate the owner of this foreign heap. The other take us up to the station."

"One of the cops gave me a motel alarm, snail. 'I'll stay. Some car. All you ride them up and don't be all afternoon coming back for me—hot in this sun.' He jabbed the punk in the ribs with his night stick. "You, get in the car and don't try nothing stupid."

I picked up the coat hanger. At the precinct house I took him right up to the squad room. Heed was there. I had the key empty his pockets. An old wallet with one buck in it said his name was Henry Moorepark. That he lived on East Fourth Street. He said he was a dye worker, unemployed since last February, gave me the name and address of the last concern he'd worked for. Besides the wallet he had a single key, a plastic case with his Social Security card on one side, a snap of a party-looking babe on the other. (To Be Continued)

Apparently Liked Doings at Mardi Gras

GULFPORT, Miss. (UP)—Passengers of the New Orleans-Miami bus were puzzled. They had just left New Orleans, and how they were headed back there, with a new driver.

Then strange scenery appeared — the bus was taking a detour. Now it was heading the other way again, toward Mobile, Ala.

Next a highway patrolman stopped the bus, two miles out of Gulfport. And the whole thing was explained.

Officers said Jack N. Porter, 33, an off-duty bus driver from Mobile, had spotted the bus at the Gulfport station, its driver inside the terminal.

Porter had been to the Mardi Gras in New Orleans and apparently wanted to go back and do a bit more celebrating. Investigators said. He climbed in the driver's seat and headed for New Orleans, the 44 passengers evidently seeing nothing amiss, at first.

Officers said the driver then apparently remembered that there also is a Mardi Gras festival in his home town of Mobile. So he changed his mind and headed east again.

The regular driver finally got his bus back and continued toward Miami. Porter ended up in jail, charged with driving while intoxicated.

Missing U. S. Plane Found in Italy

NAPLES, Italy (UP)—A U. S. Air Force plane missing since Saturday midnight with 16 service men crashed on the slopes of Mt. Vesuvius, the Air Force announced today. There was no sign of life.

Doctors Admit That Campanella Paralyzed

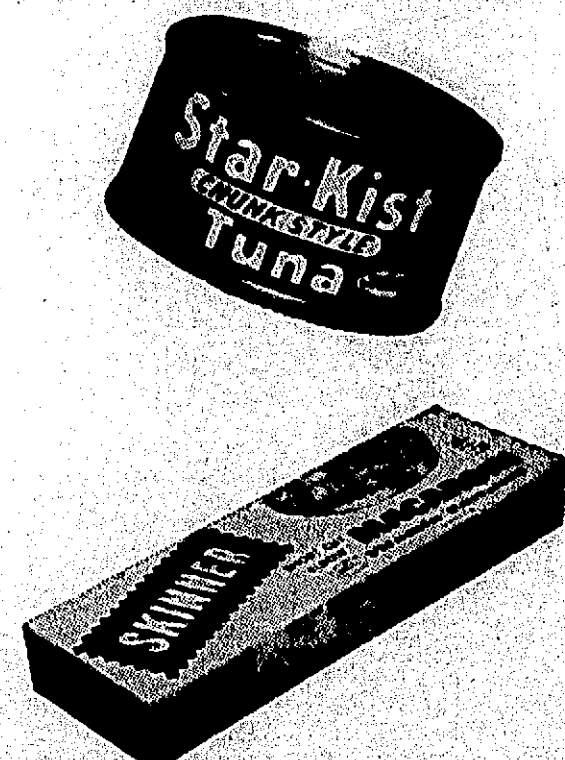

GLEN COVE, N.Y. (UP)—Doctors admitted today that Roy Campanella's paralysis has "not shown any further improvement" for the past two weeks but insisted they are "still hopeful" that his condition will improve. "However, the longer the paralysis remains unchanged, the less one can expect for the future," said Harry C. Gifford, administrator of Glen Cove Community Hospital where Campanella has been a patient since suffering a broken neck in an auto accident on Jan. 28.

Bureau Membership Drive Now 67%

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—The Arkansas Farm Bureau Federation reports 67 per cent of its 1938 membership goal had been reached through last week's drive. County farm bureaus reported a total of 40,162 member farm families, against a state quota of 60,572. The announcement was made today by H. W. Robertson, director of organization. He said that two county organizations in northwest Arkansas already had exceeded their goals. They were in South Logan and Baxter counties. A second check-up and report is scheduled for next Monday night.
